Changes to our FAST Choice and ELM displays

We have changed the way the Advantage Education Loans are listed in FAST Choice and ELM.

If you use FAST Choice or ELM, you will need to go to each site and reselect us since we streamlined our options.

In 2016, six choices were listed:

- Advantage Education Loan, Immediate Repayment Principal Plus Interest
- Advantage Education Loan, Immediate Repayment Interest Only
- Advantage Education Loan, Postponed Repayment
- Advantage Parent Loan, Immediate Repayment Principal Plus Interest
- Advantage Parent Loan, Immediate Repayment Interest Only
- Advantage Parent Loan, Postponed Repayment

Currently, two choices are listed:

- Advantage Education Loan — interest rates range from 3.95% to 7.59%
- Advantage Parent Loan — interest rates range from 3.95% to 7.59%

The three repayment terms are listed within each of the two options.

With these updates, instead of trying to decide between six Advantage Loan options, you can now choose either the student or parent option, then continue with the repayment information.

Seems like there's always a scam in the news. A recent scam is targeting college students by insisting they act immediately to get loan forgiveness.

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) notes that companies, claiming to be the Department of Education (ED), have been known to contact student borrowers to advise they must act immediately to qualify for student loan forgiveness before the program is eliminated.

Per the FTC website, "Scammers use official-looking names, seals and logos, and tell you they have special access to certain repayment plans, new federal loan consolidations, or loan forgiveness programs."

Here's a sample of a recent scam voice mail:

This message is from the Department of Education. In regards to Donald Trump becoming President, all programs for student loan forgiveness will be stopped immediately as soon as he takes office in January. In order for you to qualify, you must apply within the next 24 hours or you will not be able to have your student loan payment reduced. Please contact us at 888.307.0680. The number again is 888.307.3680. Once again you must get enrolled within the next 24 hours.

ED has advised these calls did not originate with them.

Besides loan forgiveness, common scams targeting college students include:

- Promising employment for a fee
- Requiring the student to pay nonexistent taxes
- Guaranteeing free scholarship money in return for a small fee
- Obtaining a quick college degree
- Paying off student loan debt

The FTC has information on the Signs of a Scam. Also, search their site with the keywords "college student scam" for other tips.

More information can also be found on ED's Federal Student Aid site.

Since June 2016, when the Kentucky Dual Credit Scholarship was launched, data collected from the Kentucky Department of Education (KDE) showed that 36.3% more high school students enrolled in dual credit courses for the fall 2016 semester in comparison to fall 2015. Also, 42,477 courses were taken — a 49.9% increase.

Dual credit allows students to earn high school and college credit for passing classes offered by colleges.

The program provides funding for each of the 173 public school districts across the Commonwealth, as well as applying Kentucky Lottery proceeds and funds from the Kentucky General Assembly.

The new scholarship provides $52 per credit hour for up to two dual credit classes taken at a Kentucky college during the school year. That is the highest rate participating colleges can charge for classes under the program. A student can use the scholarship for no more than 9 credit hours.

Postsecondary institutions that want to participate in the new program will agree to the tuition and fees ceiling which are one-third of the in-state tuition rate for Kentucky Community and Technology College System. The schools will receive payment when the course is completed.

Schools currently participating in the program:

Bellarmine University, Brescia University, Campbellsville University, Eastern Kentucky University, Kentucky Christian University, Kentucky State University, Kentucky Wesleyan College, Lindsey Wilson College, Midway University, Morehead State University, Murray State University, Northern Kentucky University, Spalding University, Thomas More College, Union College, University of the Cumberlands, University of Kentucky, University of Louisville, University of Pikeville, and Western Kentucky University, as well as the 16 colleges of the KCTCS system.

“We are excited about the financial benefits Kentucky students and families are realizing through the availability of dual credit,” said Carl Rollins, Executive Director of KHEAA, which administers the program. “Students can reduce the time it takes to complete college while in high school by taking college coursework at little to no cost.”

For more information, please visit: http://ewdc.ky.gov/pages/DualCredit.aspx or contact Becky Gilpatrick, KHEAA's Director of Student Aid Services, at (502) 696-7394 or rgilpatrick@kheaa.com.

KASFAA and SASFAA Volunteers Needed

The 2016–2017 year is far from over, but that doesn't mean KASFAA and SASFAA haven't started preparing for the 2017–2018 year! There are conferences to plan, meetings to organize, trainings to administer and many new regulations and legislations to review and consider. While there are so many unanswered questions regarding what is around the corner, one thing is for certain — 2017–2018 will be an eventful year.

Both KASFAA and SASFAA are only as good as their volunteers, and it needs your time, talent, ideas and insight.

There are so many areas to volunteer. Everyone is welcome; introverts and extroverts can help! People with big ideas, and those who can tackle the fine details. Passion and urgency, as well as level heads and thoughtful pauses, are needed. This will all bring a genuine diversity that addresses students and administrators throughout the Commonwealth and the southern region.

Please consider a role within KASFAA and SASFAA. If you can commit to serving in one way or another, join KASFAA and SASFAA and volunteer!

Title IV Updates

Gainful Employment

The 2017 Gainful Employment (GE) disclosure template is now available and must be used by schools to update their GE program disclosures by April 3, 2017. The template contains the new disclosures and modifications to existing disclosures. The January 19 GE electronic announcement #103 has the details.

FSA Training Conference

The 2017 FSA Training Conference for Financial Aid Professionals will be held Nov. 28–Dec. 1, at the Walt Disney World Swan and Dolphin resorts in Orlando. Hotel and registration information will be available this summer.

Verification

The Department of Education recently posted the 2017–2018 Tax Return Transcript Matrix. With only a few updates, the matrix is essentially the same as the 2016–2017 Matrix since it uses the 2015 tax year for both award years. The matrix includes FAFSA questions, tax transcript line items and tax return data to help a school validate verification tracking group income items.

The January 12 electronic announcement and matrix has more information.

CAPT Brian L. Quisenberry, USN-Ret.
Director of Financial Aid, Virginia Military Institute

Length of Service:
25 years at Virginia Military Institute, four years at Birmingham-Southern College (BSC), 29+ years in higher education

Organizations, charities or clubs to which you belong:
Military Officers Association of America
Alabama Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators
Virginia Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators

What made you choose financial aid as a profession?
Following my 17 years in college admissions, working in financial aid afforded me the opportunity to continue to help young people achieve their dream of attending college and walk them and their parents through the financial aid process.

What has kept you in financial aid?
Knowing that I’ve been able to help students and families navigate the financial aid process, attend college and emerge as young adults ready to tackle the challenges that await them.

What accomplishments are you the most proud?
In general, it’s the opportunity to help people that continues to motivate me and from which I gain my sense of accomplishment. To be a part of the process that makes them better citizens, co-workers and individuals drives me. I’m always telling my staff that if we can get just a little bit better each day, we’ll be fine and be in a position to better serve our students and their families.

How do you spend your free time; what energizes you?
Spending time with my family, hunting, fishing and reading a good book.

Family:
Married with two children — a junior at a college in Birmingham and a high school senior.
My wife is a school teacher in the local school system.

How has working with KHEAA or KHESLC improved your workflow or helped your students?
Using KHEAA for all our verification processing has allowed us to free up personnel in our office to better focus on other areas that need our attention. During my time at BSC, we used KHEAA Verify for two cycles, and the improvements in processing were wonderful. Because we were able to focus our efforts on other financial aid processes, our office became more efficient and focused, and provided improved service to our customers. When I transitioned back to VMI in November 2016, I again sought the verification services that KHEAA provides. I took over another young office that needed help in its overall processing of financial aid, compliance, etc. The experience I had at BSC allowed the transition to KHEAA at VMI to go very smoothly. I look forward to continuing to work with KHEAA in the future.
